MRS. RICHARD CARTER

A Special Education class has been set up for Hope High School this year and is under the direction of Mrs. Richard Carter. Selection of the students is by means of educational and vocational tests, followed by parent-teacher conferences. At the present time there are fourteen students.

The Hot Springs Vocational Rehabilitation Center sends a representative each week to work with the students. The class is financed by Title VI and the school district. The goal of the individualized work is to place them in a job with classwork in the morning and work in the afternoons.

Cold Front Scheduled to Move in

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Freezing temperatures are expected tonight in the northern portion of the state. Highs Wednesday ranged from 71 at Fayetteville and Harrison, to 70 at Fort Smith and El Dorado.

Overnight lows included 32 at Fayetteville; 33 at Harrison; 43 at Fort Smith; 48 at Jonesboro; 48 at Little Rock; 52 at Texarkana; 54 at Pine Bluff and Memphis; and 65 at El Dorado. Precipitation for the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today included .21 at El Dorado; .12 at Memphis.

Charges Are Dismissed Against 5

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Charges against five former officials or trustees at the state's prison have been dismissed.

U.S. Atty. W. H. Dillahunty said that the charges were similar to those in earlier trials where the defendants have been acquitted.

The defendants were G. W. Thompson, a farm supervisor at Cammins Prison Farm; E. G. Mays of McGehee, a former warden at Tucker Prison Farm; and Richard David of New Orleans, Douglas Burke of Kunkirk, Ind., and Tommy DeShazo of Fort Smith, all former trustees at Tucker.

Only three convictions have resulted following a Grand Jury indictment of 13 persons on charges of cruel and unusual punishment and violating the civil rights of prisoners.

Nursing Home Fire Probe by Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel is planning hearings to probe the puzzling death of 31 patients in a sudden fire in a modern nursing home built to be fire resistant.

Fire experts and Senate investigators indicated today the death toll—second highest in a nursing home blaze in the last decade—may have been caused by heavy black smoke traced to the carpeting in the facility at Marietta, Ohio.

Ironically, the fire-resistant construction, considered so good that no sprinkler system was required for the home, may have trapped the smoke inside the brick building, investigators said.

The Senate subcommittee on long-term care will open the hearings in Washington Feb. 9. Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, subcommittee chairman, said he wants to know how widespread the danger of fire deaths may be in similar new facilities.

Moss said he has asked for testimony from "representatives of a firm which supplied some of the furnishing materials used in the nursing home." He did not identify the firm.

The 31 deaths in the fire Jan. 9 at the Harmer House Center in Marietta were attributed by hospital officials to smoke inhalation and suffocation.

Half of the nursing home facilities in the nation have been built in the last seven years. The Marietta blaze was the first major fire in the country in such a modern nursing home.

In addition to the furnishings, the probe may touch also on federal regulations on nursing homes.

Medicaid regulations exempt one-story, fire-resistant buildings such as the Marietta facility from requirements to have sprinkler systems. Medicare requirements for sprinklers also permit discretionary exceptions.

Israeli Jets Strike Again in Jordan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Israeli jets struck Arab guerrilla positions at three places in Jordan today, and the Israeli command said all the planes returned safely.

One 15-minute raid north of the Dead Sea hit near the village of Shunat Nimrin. Two raids took place south of the Sea of Galilee in the Belsan Valley after an Israeli border guard and a soldier were wounded in exchanges with Arab guerrillas across the cease-fire line.

Another Israeli patrol drew guerrilla fire about five miles farther south and the planes went in again to bomb the attackers, the witnesses said. No Israelis were injured in the second incident.

The Israelis said there was no Jordanian anti-aircraft fire to hamper their planes. Egyptian Vice President Anwar Sadat declared in a speech in Cairo that Egypt will strike at Israel "beyond the battle-lines" in retaliation for Israeli air strikes on Cairo's suburbs Wednesday.

Sadat told a political rally at Alexandria University: "We are determined to achieve victory and we know there is no substitute for battle to liberate our lands."

A Cairo broadcast said the students pledged their support to President Gamal Abdel Nasser in a declaration "inscribed in blood" and reaffirmed their faith in an Arab victory "in the coming battle of destiny."

Meanwhile, France's arms deal with Libya continued to grow. Reliable sources in Paris said France will sell at least 110 Mirage jets to Libya and not the 100 aircraft French Defense Minister Michel Debre announced last week.

The informants said negotiations with the Libyans still were going on and that the number of planes and other armaments has not been determined.

The French government at first denied published reports that arms talks with Libya were under way. Later a French communiqué said Libya would buy 15 planes, then another communiqué said 50 planes. Finally Debre said 100 planes.

4th Man in Yablonski Case Questioned

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James Charles Phillips, reportedly the mysterious "fourth man" questioned in the Joseph Yablonski family slayings, has appeared before a federal grand jury investigating the case.

Phillips, 22, of Cleveland, father of three children, was firmly whisked away from the Federal Building by FBI agents after he testified Wednesday.

Officials refused to comment on a Cleveland Plain Dealer story that Phillips backed out of an alleged plot to kill Yablonski, 59, a United Mine Workers union insurgent; his wife, Margaret, 37, and daughter, Charlotte, 25.

Phillips' parents confirmed, however, that their son knew the three men, all from Cleveland, who are charged with first-degree murder in the gun-shot slayings last Dec. 31 at Yablonski's Clarksville, Pa., home.

In West Brownsville, Pa., about 15 miles from Yablonski's home, a hotel owner said Wednesday that two of the accused, Paul E. Gilly, 36, and Aubran Martin, 21, registered for an overnight stay in the hotel Dec. 27. The third man charged is Claude E. Vealey, 26.

voted to override the President. House GOP leaders also worked hard for a strong party showing, making the issue a vote of confidence in Nixon and letting it be known defectors might have a hard time getting help at election time.

Nixon, who said he vetoed the bill because $1.2 billion added to it by Congress made it inflationary, immediately sent invitations to a White House reception to the 156 Republicans and 35 Democrats who voted to sustain the veto.

For the Democratic leaders it was far from a festive occasion. They huddled right after the session but were unable to decide what to do next.

One possibility, which has bipartisan support in the appropriations subcommittee that must bring out a new bill, would be to leave the extra $1.2 billion in it but add a provision saying Nixon doesn't have to spend it.

Nixon suggested this possibility in his veto message and the White House has indicated that if it is left to him the President will spend $448 million of the additional funds.

Most of the money—$238 million—would be for the impacted areas program. Nixon had budgeted only $202 million for the program and the vetoed bill would have raised it to $600 million. The figure for last year was $521 million.

Noting that Nixon was sharply critical of the program in his veto message, House Democratic Leader Carl Albert accused the administration of "cynical double dealing" by offering to increase spending for it.

Enemy Claims U.S. Bombers Active Again

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam today accused U.S. planes of bombing North Vietnamese territory Wednesday and called the raid a "very grave act of war."

Col. Ha Van Lau, deputy leader of North Vietnam's delegation to the Paris Peace Talks, told the 51st weekly session of the talks that the alleged raid was a new proof of President Nixon's "warlike intentions and the hypocrisy of all this talk of peace."

Hanoi claimed earlier that American planes made a series of attacks on populated areas inside North Vietnam around noon Wednesday, that three planes were shot down and several others damaged.

Official American sources in Saigon reported that anti-aircraft fire brought down a U.S. Air Force F-105 fighter-bomber in the area of the North Vietnamese-Lao border Wednesday and that two hours later a North Vietnamese MIG jet shot down a big rescue helicopter searching for the F-105 crew.

The sources said the F-105 was one of three on a mission in the area of the Ma Gia Pass, which crosses the border. They said they didn't know what the mission was but the planes might have been escorting reconnaissance planes over North Vietnam, attacking supply trails in Laos or attacking anti-aircraft missile—SAM—sites in the area.

When the United States stopped bombing North Vietnam 15 months ago, it said it would continue reconnaissance flights.

Memory Is Wardrobe of the Mind, It Stores the Raiment of Past

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It isn't clothes that make the man—his memories do.

Indeed, memory is the wardrobe of his mind. In it he stores the raiment of his past. In it, hung like old garments of yesterday in a darkened closet, are the memories that make him who he is.

Your own wardrobe of memories is pretty crowded if you can look back along the years and remember when—he was asked by committee members about the Phillips case. He said he was not able to discuss the court's decision, which has been appealed to the Supreme Court, but testified that he believes in enforcing the law.

With about a dozen witnesses still to be heard by the committee, major opponents of Carswell's nomination to the high court sought to delay their appearance and gain time to build their case.

Republican leaders indicated Wednesday they expect a fast and overwhelming confirmation of President Nixon's choice for the high court despite the request by opponents for more time.

"I believe there is a general awareness here now that he is going to be confirmed—and by a big vote," Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, senior Republican on the Judiciary Committee, told a reporter.

Hruska made no issue of a move Wednesday that forced a delay in the testimony of a number of witnesses.

Civil rights spokesmen opposing Carswell's nomination had objected to testifying before next week.

Man Charged With Murder Is Suicide

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — Cecil Keeney, 25, of Texarkana, Ark., died here Wednesday of what police termed an apparently self-inflicted bullet wound. He was to have been tried Monday on a murder charge.

Keeney had been in a hospital here since Monday, when he was shot in the right temple with a .22-caliber pistol, officers said.

He had been charged with first-degree murder in the shotgun slaying last June of his stepfather, Doyle Hymman of Texarkana.

Trial on the charge had been delayed twice.

does not acknowledge American air activity over Laos although as many as 400 U.S. fighter-bombers have been pounding the Mu Gia Pass and the Ho Chi Minh Trail daily to slow North Vietnamese troops and supplies headed for South Vietnam.

The U.S. Command announced, meanwhile, that two other American helicopters were shot down in South Vietnam Wednesday. One, a Cobra gunship, was downed near the Cambodian border north of Saigon and two crewmen were killed. The other went down near the southern tip of the Mekong Delta, but there were no American casualties.

The U.S. Command said 75 Americans were killed in action, compared to 84 the previous week.

Settlement Tentative in GE Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Tentative agreement on economic issues and other basic items that set off the 12-union, 95-day-old strike against General Electric Co. has been hammered out in negotiations.

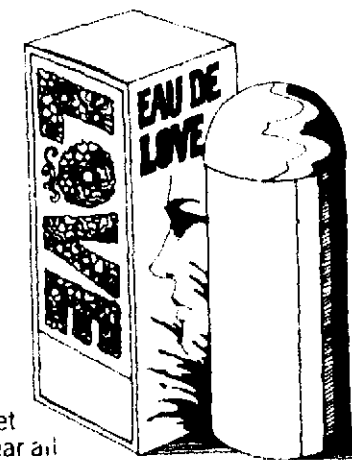

Electrical workers' negotiators and GE representatives met late Wednesday night to work out final contract language to end the walkout of 133,000 workers that crippled GE production in 135 cities around the nation.

Details of the expected settlements were hidden behind a news blackout. Bargaining has been with the International Union of Electrical Workers, AFL-CIO, and the Independent Binit Electrical Workers, with the other 10 unions expected to follow the pattern of settlements with the IUE and UE.

About 310,000 domestic employees of GE could be affected by new contracts. J. Curtis Counts, head of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, directed separate talks among union leaders and management representatives. They began joint sessions Wednesday night.

Mrs. P.L. Perkins reviewed "Close Your Eyes when Praying" by Virginia Cary Hudson at the Cosmopolitan Club meeting Tuesday, January 27 in the home of Mrs. E.J. Whitman.

The book retells from a woman's point of view stories of Biblical personalities, great and small, with an emphasis on women. The stories had been told to a women's Sunday School class taught by the author and are full of wit and insight, high humor and serious sentiment. "This casually delightful, definitely unforgettable book should be a 'must' on every woman's reading list," Mrs. Perkins said. Red carnations were arranged in the living room and the dining room of the home in which the meeting was held. The president, Mrs. Hamilton Hanagan, had charge of the meeting, and the secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Thomas Flays, carried out her duties.

During the refreshment hour, the co-hostesses, Mrs. Whitman and Mrs. Everett Vinson, served a dessert plate with coffee or spiced tea to 19.

CENTERVILLE HOME MAKERS CLUB MEETS

Instruction in Childbirths in Schools

NEW YORK (AP) — Emergency instructions on how to deliver a baby in school have been sent to all city public school principals by the Department of Health.

The instructions said each school should have "an appropriate room with a high table or bench" and two persons trained in delivery procedures to help until a doctor reaches the school.

The new procedures, made public Wednesday, apparently were a response to the Board of Education's action last fall to encourage pregnant students to remain in school instead of dismissing them.

There were 2,487 reported pregnancies last year among unmarried girls in 7th through 12th grades in city schools.

Dr. Olive E. Pitkin, director of the Health Department's bureau of school health, said he knew of only two cases in the last 15 years in which a girl gave birth in school.

Pitkin said the procedures were based on police department instructions to patrolmen on what to do to aid a childbirth.

They include lessons on how to deliver the child and what to do in case of emergency.

"Normally there is more than sufficient time to summon and await medical assistance," the procedures say. "However, the percentage of premature births and miscarriages among young girls is higher than among older women. Such premature birth may be unusually fast and require emergency measures before the arrival of the ambulance."

Not all principals were happy with the instructions.

"The implications of this departmental action for the student, occasional school midwife are absolutely terrifying," for the pregnant teenagers in school and for the unprepared, untrained school personnel who are to be assigned to handle the apparently inevitable emergency deliveries in the schools," said Abraham H. Levy, principal of Abraham Lincoln High School in Brooklyn.

TWO VIEWS of a headline-making housewife. HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WHAT'S IN A NAME?—TRADITION, MOSTLY

Dear Helen: A while back you asked us to vote on whether we wanted a change of name for your column, "Helen Help Us." How did the voting turn out?—FOR CHANGE

Dear For: The voting was almost a draw, with "Helen Help Us!" people in the lead by a tiny majority.

So be it.—H.

Dear Helen: I was just thinking...

Of all the married friends I have, not one has anything good to say about marriage. Maybe they're just kidding but they talk like it's a trap, a hassle, a real bust.

You see them arguing and scolding, or maybe fooling around with somebody else. Married girls can't wait to get out for an evening with the old gang from school or the secret pool. And then they talk about how their husbands would rather be "out with the boys" than with them!

How can a romantic young couple change so fast? Or do they just think it's the "in" thing to act like marriage is a drag?

At 20, I've almost decided to be a—SWINGING SINGLE

Dear S.S.: I've often wondered, too, why more married couples don't show they're in love. It's as if they were suddenly embarrassed about admitting they care for each other.

Comments, you young marrieds?—H.

Dear Helen: You thought Marla wrote a hoax letter, but I know girls like that. This is what I have to say about them:

Anyone who would call her mother an old fogey and a bun and insist on smoking at age 12 deserves a lot more than a little spanking!

She complains about a 75 cent a week allowance. That's more than I get, and I'm 14. Also, I'm not allowed out after dark by myself. And I think I'm being treated fairly.

I think it's dumb to try smoking, but if I ever did, I wouldn't blame my folks for grounding me. They are nice to me, so I try to make them proud of me. Wonder if Marla ever thought of that?—FOURTEEN

Dear Helen: When I was 13 my mother caught me smoking and made me eat a pack of cigarettes. Marla got off easy. She is a spoiled, childish little brat and she'd better listen to her mother (who ought to spank her six times a day) I didn't listen well enough. At 17, I've been through a marriage, a pregnancy, and a divorce. Believe me if my little girl acts that way to me at age 12, she'll get it harder than I ever got it from my parents—LEARNED TOO LATE

Dear Learned Too Late: Somehow I don't think you've learned at all. You still seem to believe children should be raised by rod, retaliation and resentment. If you don't change your viewpoint, perhaps your daughter may also be divorced mother at age 17.—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Danny Thomas' CBS special Wednesday Night was a good, workmanlike hour, not inspired but well put together. The standard ingredients were there: the clutch of guest stars, the dance production number, the song marathon and, of course, the sketches.

And it was the kind of show that one forgets almost as soon as the station break commercials appear.

This situation, however, is becoming common amid the welter of variety series and variety specials. Often, too, the viewer has a strange feeling he is watching a remake of an old show with new characters and can predict the pay-off lines or sight gags.

Thomas, as host, was busy. He appeared in a short sketch with his former—and probably future—TV family of "Make Room for Daddy." He was the patient in a sketch with guest Bob Hope playing a doctor interrupted in the middle of his golf game. He joined singer Donnie Warwick in a medley of song hits.

In the most amusing sketch, Carol Channing and Tim Conway played a pair of astronauts blasting off on a two year trip to Jupiter and floating through a weightless wedding in their space ship.

In addition to performances by Hope, Conway, Miss Channing and Juliet Prowse, Thomas had a sizeable bag of stars for cameo appearances. Jack Benny played three choruses of "Love in Bloom" on his fiddle. Ann-Margret was under wraps in a "Laugh-In" type blackout. Dean Martin did a quick booze joke and Buddy Hackett had some gags from the audience.

Merv Griffin, now working out of Hollywood for a few weeks, may be trailing NBC's "Tonight Show" by several Nielsen points, but CBS insists it is happy and that the late evening program is making money. CBS is not happy, however, that a few of its affiliated stations have decided to move the 30-minute show from late evening to afternoon.

Dick Cavett, with about a quarter of Carson's audience, is under some ABC pressure to step up the pace of his show by speeding up, tightening up or eliminating his opening monologue. The few minutes at the opening seem to be the weakest point in the show—and they come at a critical time since viewers shopping for late evening diversion could easily pass Cavett over while he leisurely reads signs held up by his studio audience and reads prepared answers to planted question cards allegedly from the audience.

Support Is Building For Ashe

By JOURNAL STAFF
COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Support for Arthur Ashe, the tennis player who was refused a visa by South Africa, began to build today.

The American Committee on Africa issued a two-page letterhead attacking South Africa's position and called upon U.S. athletes to refuse to participate there.

"It comes as no surprise that the South African government has denied Arthur Ashe a visa," said George Houser, executive director of the American Committee on Africa. "It is patently clear that black athletes are not welcome in South Africa."

The importance of this decision is not confined to the sports field, Houser continued. "It is a dramatic demonstration of the commitment of South Africa to a racist position and its denial of human rights to the non-white South African majority."

Dr. Robert Eaton, president of the American Tennis Association, issued a similarly strong statement calling on American players to boycott South African competition in sympathy with Ashe.

Ashe, who had requested the visa to play in the South African Open Tennis Championship in March, also got backing from a fellow player, top-ranked American Stan Smith.

"I think some of the players will boycott the tournament," said Smith. "I have not entered, but if I had I would think twice about playing."

Another American, Bob Lutz, said he thought the decision might result in South Africa being excluded from future Davis Cup play.

The decision, which was announced by Frank Waring, South Africa's sports minister. The anti-government Rand Daily Mail called the refusal "predictably obtuse" and said the ban "will be seen as naked racialism, a remarkable compound of opportunism and prejudice."

Die Transvaler, organ of the ruling Nationalist Party, defended the decision against Ashe, who, it said, offered tried to publicly embarrass South Africa.

Fastest Man May Join Pro Grid Ranks

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Controversial sprinter John Carlos, the world's fastest human, will seek a whopping four-year pro football contract totaling between $600,000 and $1 million, although he has never played organized football, according to his advisor.

"He's going to be some drawing card; his drawing power is fabulous," Robert "Pappy" Gault said Wednesday night after the 24-year-old Carlos became a 15th-round draft pick of the Philadelphia Eagles, who will try him as a wide receiver.

Carlos was en route from California to New York, where Gault said he will make his final track appearance in Friday night's Millrose Games.

"His reaction to being drafted was that it's the greatest thing in the world," Gault said. "He wanted to play on the East Coast. And we're going for $600,000 to a million dollars."

Gault coached the U.S. boxing team in the 1968 Olympic Games at Mexico City, where the 6-foot-3, 210 Carlos, along with Tommie Smith, staged a Black Power protest during the playing of the National Anthem.

Carlos was one of two track stars chosen Wednesday as the 26 pro football teams selected 260 more players, bringing the two-day total to 442.

The other was Willie Davenport, who won the 110-meter high hurdles at Mexico City. Davenport, who has played some cornerback for Southern University, was taken on the 12th round by New Orleans. The 6-1, 185-pound hurdler was drafted last year by New Orleans and later by San Diego but both picks were nullified because he had college eligibility remaining.

"I'm serious about pro football," said the 26-year-old Davenport, who has run 100 yards in 9.4 seconds to Carlos' 9.1. "I was serious last year. But I'll keep on hurdling until I become a pro."

The two-day draft took 20 hours and 45 minutes and saw 167 major college players selected, compared to 155 from the smaller schools.

The Pittsburgh Steelers made Louisiana Tech quarterback Terry Bradshaw the No. 1 pick Tuesday and two of his favorite receivers were drafted Wednesday—tight end Larry Brewer on the eighth round by Atlanta and wide receiver Sonny Spinks on the 14th round by Minnesota.

Two ninth-round picks were Ohio State's 214-pound fullback Jim Ots by New Orleans and wide receiver Eddie "The Flea" Bell of Idaho State by the New York Jets. Ots gained 1,027 yards and scored 16 touchdowns in nine games while the 5-9, 165-pound Bell led the nation with 96 receptions, 1,322 yards and 20 touchdowns.

Larry Schreiber of Tennessee Tech, the fourth leading rusher in college history with 4,421 yards, went to San Francisco on the 10th round.

Claims Lights Not Right in Hockey Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "That goal light wasn't set up right, that's all," fumed New York Rangers defenseman Rod Seiling. "The green one went on first—then the red one!"

The green one signifies the end of a period in a National Hockey League game, the red one denotes the scoring of a goal.

Referee Bob Sloan saw things slightly different Wednesday night. After 15 minutes of talking and arguing with members of the Rangers, Los Angeles Kings and other officials, he ruled the red one had flashed first—with one second to play in the game—and the Kings had an electrifying 5-4 victory.

In other games, Montreal nipped Minnesota 5-4, St. Louis ripped Oakland 6-1, Pittsburgh tied Toronto 4-4 and Philadelphia deadlocked with Chicago 2-2.

Selling was about the only Ranger who had anything to say after the wild contest which enabled the Kings, last in the West Division, to snap an eight-game losing streak and allowed Montreal to close within two points of the front-running Rangers in the East.

But left wing Ross Lonsberry of the Kings, who slipped the puck into the Ranger net during a stick-swinging affair near the goal, was beaming.

"I saw Glacomin go down. Then I spotted the puck right in front of the crease—so I just shoveled it up and over him," Lonsberry said.

"I knew it was late in the game—and I didn't see the light go on—but all I cared about was that the puck was in the net," he said of his ninth goal of the season.

Ranger captain Bob Nevin lifted the Rangers to a 4-4 tie with 1:11 to play—only 87 seconds after Bill Flett's 55-foot slap shot eluded Glacomin to give the Kings a 4-3 lead.

Vic Hadfield, Rod Gilbert and Walt Tkaczuk also scored for the Rangers while Jimmy Peters connected twice and Butch Goring tallied once for Los Angeles.

Kelth McCreary spent 25 days on the sidelines but it was one too few for the Maple Leafs. McCreary returned to action for the first time in almost one month Wednesday night and scored a pair of goals for Pittsburgh, helping the Penguins to their tie with Toronto.

McCreary, who has had a knee injury, scored his first goal of the game late in the second period, cutting Toronto's lead to 3-2. But Jim McKenney restored the two-goal Toronto margin early in the third session.

Then McCreary and Dean Prentice connected 64 seconds apart with just over five minutes left to play, tying it for the Penguins.

The deadlock moved Pittsburgh into a third place tie with Minnesota in the NHL's West Division.

Gary Dornhoefer's short-handed goal gave Philadelphia its tie with Chicago—the 17th deadlock of the season for the Flyers, only six short of the record held by Montreal.

Dornhoefer connected at 6:16 of the third period after the Flyers intercepted a clearing pass by Chicago goalie Tony Esposito.

Cliff Koroll and Chico Maki scored Chicago's goals while Andre Luceroix had Philadelphia's other tally.

took Jimmy Gunn, a 210-pound All-American defensive end from Southern California who has been offered a management training position with a large San Diego industrial firm, and Houston grabbed Jess Lewis, a defensive tackle from Oregon State who skipped the 1968 season to wrestle in the Olympics.

MARY BETH MILLICAN

Mary Beth Millican, on the basis of her score in the home-making knowledge and attitude test taken by senior girls in December, is Hope High School's 1970 Betty Crocker Homemaking of Tomorrow.

In addition to receiving a silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the annual homemaking education program, Mary Beth is now eligible for one of 102 college scholarships totaling $10,000.

Mary Beth plans to enroll at Harding College next fall. She is president of the National Honor Society, co-captain of the Lady Cats, associate editor of the Hi-Lights, and a senior representative on the Student Council.

She was a delegate to Girls State and a member of the Junior Play cast.

Her sister Mrs. Carolyn Hickerson was second place winner for the state of Arkansas in 1967 and received the $1,500 first place award when the winner accepted another scholarship.

Highway Work Slated on 29 to Lewisville

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Commission was asked by Little Rock officials Wednesday to set a completion date for the East-West Expressway.

Mayor Haco Boyd of Little Rock, gave Ward Goodman, state Highway Director, a check for $85,000 as the city's "final commitment" to the first phase of the project and stressed the importance of the project's completion.

The additional 1.6 miles needed to complete the expressway is estimated to cost $1.5 million. Half of this total will be furnished by federal funds.

The commission refused to set a deadline for completion. During the meeting, Elijah Coleman, executive director of the Arkansas Council of Human Relations, said the Highway Department had not hired a proportionate number of Negroes.

He said of the department's 3,700 employees, 63 are Negroes.

Goodman told Coleman that the commission has adopted a resolution that will set new policies in hiring Negroes.

He told Coleman to talk to officials of the department's equal opportunity division and to come back to the commission "if you think we have not done enough."

In other action, the commission authorized the department to proceed with plans for three bridges in the state when funds are available.

The bridges are on old Arkansas 63 that crosses the St. Francis River in Polk County at an estimated cost of $200,000; across Fourche Creek in Pulaski County at $200,000 and across Hurricane Creek on Arkansas 183 in Saline County at $150,000.

The commission also authorized five road projects at an estimated cost of $468,700.

The largest project was for $156,000 for drainage and surfacing of 15.3 miles of Arkansas 311 from Farewell to Blue (Carroll County).

Other projects included by County: CLEVELAND — Surfacing of 5.4 miles of Arkansas 15 from Rye to Pansy, estimated at $62,700.

DREW — Widening and resurfacing four miles of Arkansas 4 around the square in Monticello and Arkansas 83 from Arkansas 31 north, estimated at $66,000.

LAFAYETTE — Shoulder work on 21.9 miles of Arkansas 29 from Canfield to Hempstead County Line, estimated at $114,500.

NEVADA — Construction of reinforced concrete box culvert extensions on 19.6 miles of Arkansas 24 from Prescott to the Ouachita County line.

SCHOOL GROUP WANTS TO BEAT CONGRESSMEN

BOB CONRAD

Bob Conrad, FBI Resident and Special Agent from Texarkana, spoke to the Rho Epsilon Phi Beta Lambda Business Club at Red River Vocational Technical School on Monday, January 26, Mr. Conrad informed the group of position openings with the FBI in Washington, D.C. and gave some of the requirements for each position. He also discussed such subjects as training, salary, and housing in Washington D.C.

BUFAFO, N.Y. (AP) — The president of the National Education Association, the nation's largest teachers' group, says, "We want to beat five or 10 congressmen who switched their vote on the HEW (health, education and welfare) veto."

"We will use them as an example. We will put the fear of God in politicians all over the country," George D. Fischer of Des Moines, Iowa, told a teachers' meeting Wednesday.

The NEA had the "most massive" lobbying drive in history working to pass the education bill, which President Nixon vetoed Monday night, Fischer said.

"We have plans to let every executive committee in the nation know how their congressmen voted on this and every other education question," Fischer said.

"We plan to make it political suicide to vote against the kids and education."

The NEA cannot take a stand on any individual candidate without endangering its tax-exempt status, he said, but the organization is considering setting up separate bodies to take political positions.

Bobcats Get Ready for Lincoln High

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

With division-leading scorer Larry Muldrew out with the flu, the Hope Bobcats continue preparations for a Saturday night showdown at Camden with the Lincoln High Tigers.

Muldrew has missed school since Monday of this week with his illness, which may prevent him from even suiting up Saturday. Coach John Ross has inserted 6-3 sophomore Lynn Norton into the lineup in place of Larry, whose 75 points led 4-A West after last weekend.

Lincoln won the first meeting here 75-41 a fortnight ago, but the Tigers could be let down after a big emotional battle with Fairview tomorrow evening.

This time Hope must establish some kind of rebounding consistency with John Dudley and Norton or Muldrew, whoever plays. The points must come from inside, but the guards' production will be important too.

Junior Parker Powell is now hitting close to 10 points a game on the average, and the 5-11 guard is a ballhawk on defense along with Ronnie Massanelli, who still is averaging around six points each outing.

That leaves 5-10 sophomore David Briggs, whose jumpers nearly led an upset over Muldrew that fell six points shy in the 63-57 defeat last Friday.

A key factor, with Muldrew doubtful, will be the foul situation with the Bobcats short on healthy depth.

Lincoln will start 6-3 Donnie Davidson, "the All-Stater," and some fine shooters in Eddie Moore, Larry Seals, and Richard Robinson.

Proceeding the battle will be a junior boys contest at 6:30 p.m., as the Hope Verger Bobkittens try to repeat their earlier 34-29 conquest of the Lincoln juniors.

Tonight the Junior Girls and Senior Girls are traversing to Mineral Springs for a pair of games, beginning at 6:30 p.m. Both Hope teams will seek revenge for close losses here Tuesday: The Juniors losing 34-33 and the Lady Cats falling 48-44 to the same Mineral Springs teams.

Miniskirts Out for National Golf Open

By PAT THOMPSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHASKA, Minn. (AP) — Miniskirts are out for the 1970 U.S. Open Golf Championship, but fashion-plated caddies will be in June 18-21 at the Hazeltine National Golf Club near Chaska.

Nancy Jupp, tournament manager in telling about the quickening pace of preparations for the 70th open, talked about the fashion-minded approach Wednesday.

"Just wild," Miss Jupp said in describing caddy uniforms, part of 1,000 which have been ordered for various workers and officials.

Caddies will be decked out in blue and gold pinstriped slacks, matching blue-gold caps, gold T-shirts and white sneakers.

Tournament officials will wear gold jackets, blue slacks. Marshals will be outfitted in blue and gold striped shirts and blue slacks.

Tournament caddies, obviously, are blue and gold.

And the women officials will wear gold blouses, blue skirts.

Miniskirts? "Semi-miniskirts," joked Miss Jupp, who has been in the Twin Cities since last July 1 working on the Open.

Miss Jupp is preparing her third Open, and has been responsible for major behind-the-scenes planning in six PGA championships.

Throwing out other bits of information, Miss Jupp reported

Bonaventure Tumbled From Unbeaten List

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Wildcats freed the Big Cat and Tumbled the Brown Indians of St. Bonaventure out of the unbeaten ranks in college basketball.

Which is to say that the inspired Villanova Wildcats upset the country's third-ranked team 64-62 Wednesday night in the Villanova Fieldhouse on the Philadelphia Main Line.

The Big Cat, at 6-foot-11 Bob Lanier is known to his St. Bonaventure teammates, scored 21 points, most on long one-handers. He was forced outside by an aggressive Villanova Zone defense which held him to only six points in the first half.

"We're third in the nation and everybody is looking for us," Lanier said. "I hate to lose, inside I'm eating myself up. But you can't do anything about it."

The Bonnies, trying for their 13th straight, rallied from 13 points down to within 64-62 with two minutes left. Neither team scored thereafter although Bill Kallough of the Bonnies missed a layup with nine seconds on the clock.

"We had a few more errors than normal and in a close game you can't do this and win," commented Larry Weise, the Bonnie coach.

Howard Porter and Chris Ford were top Villanova scorers. Each got 15 points.

The Wildcats took a 6-0 lead and stayed on top all the way. "We felt we had to force Lanier outside for us to have a chance to beat them," said Jack Kraft, Villanova mentor. "I was amazed we were able to keep him out as long as we did."

South Carolina, fourth-ranked in The Associated press poll, enjoyed an easy time against Virginia Tech. The Gamecocks, led by John Roche's 27 points, won at home 86-54 for their 13th in a row and an over-all 14-1 record.

North Carolina, No. 9, whipped Athletics-in-Action 85-63 at Chapel Hill.

Ohio Univ., 13th-ranked and only other team in AP Top Twenty to see action, beat Western Michigan 91-81 at Kalamazoo behind John Gahner's 28 points.

Underdog Providence, playing at home, scored an upset 58-57 overtime victory over the Redmen of St. John's, N.Y. The Friars won on Craig Gatten's basket with nine seconds left.

Louisville shaded St. Louis 62-60 in another overtime thriller. Jim Price hit a jump shot with six seconds on the clock to win the home game for the Cardinals.

Holy Cross just managed to squeak past Springfield for an 80-78 road victory despite a 76-point performance by Dennis Clark for the losing Chiefs.

Razorback players Bill Montgomery, Cliff Powell, Rick Kersey, and Gordon McNulty are the guest speakers for the Hope High School All-Sports Banquet slated for Friday night at 7 p.m. in the Coliseum.

Honored at the event will be the 4-AA football champion Bobcats, who capped an 11-2 season with the 13-6 playoff win over Camden, and especially the seven All-District and two All-State players.

Also, the Head Butcher Award for the best defensive player on the Hope team will be announced, along with the Team Player Award as chosen by the squad members.

HHS senior basketball teams will be recognized, including the Bobcats and the Lady Cats, for their accomplishments thus far this season.

The four Razorbacks were arranged to speak through the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for the HHS Athletic Department.

Montgomery is the junior quarterback, of course, that led the Hogs so close to the national championship. Under Bill's tenure, Arkansas has a record 19 wins and only three losses.

As the Razorbacks' only All-American first-teamer, line-backer Cliff Powell was also All-Southwest Conference last two seasons. Before the knee injury that sidelined him for surgery after the Texas game in December, Rick Kersey was acclaimed as one of the surest tacklers of the U of A has ever had.

Gordon McNulty of Pine Bluff is the other senior besides Powell to speak here Friday night. McNulty first went to Vanderbilt, then transferred to Fayetteville at the cost of a year of eligibility.

He played only little in the final games against Texas and Mississippi because of a recurrent knee injury and a head concussion, but in his two years became one of the most respected members of the Arkansas front four on defense.

Alcindor and McGlocklin in Point Tie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Low Alcindor cost Milwaukee more than a million dollars and Jon McGlocklin came considerably cheaper. But they shared equally in point production Wednesday night, leading the Bucks to a 126-114 victory over the Cincinnati Royals.

The victory moved Milwaukee to within 5 1/2 games of idle New York in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division race.

In other NBA action Wednesday, Boston whipped Philadelphia 112-100, Baltimore trimmed San Diego 113-108 and Seattle edged Atlanta 120-119.

In the American Basketball Association, Carolina topped New Orleans 95-91 and Kentucky edged New York 108-107.

Alcindor and McGlocklin each scored 33 points for Milwaukee as the Bucks ended a six-game Royal home winning streak and withstood a Cincinnati record-setting 11 straight field goals by Johnny Green.

The Bucks shot a sizzling 67 per cent in the first half but needed a 13-4 streak midway through the third period to wrap up the victory.

Boston, embarrassed by a 33-point loss in New York the night before, rebounded against Philadelphia.

Colonels Win to Break a Losing Streak

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louie Dampier made only 1-of-3 free throws with seconds remaining... but it was enough to break the Kentucky Colonels' four-game losing streak.

It gave the Colonels a 108-107 American Basketball Association victory over the New York Nets Wednesday night. Kentucky's big gun was Darel Carrier, who poured in 43 points, including 15-of-17 from the free throw line and four three-pointers in five attempts.

Next Chapter on Pilots Due Feb. 6

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The next chapter in the continuing saga of the Seattle Pilots will be written Feb. 6 at a location yet to be made known.

The American League baseball club, which has seen deal lines come and go, was given nine more days — to within two weeks of the opening of spring training — to find enough cash to keep them in Seattle.

A business group, headed by hotel executive Edward Carlson, was handed that deadline here Wednesday by league owners as representatives of Dallas-Fort Worth and Milwaukee stood by ready to step in if Seattle conceded defeat.

American League President Joe Cronin announced that the meetings had been recessed in order to give Carlson more time to arrange for the financing that would allow his group to buy the Pilots for $9 million.

For reasons best known to himself, Cronin declined to say when or where the next meeting would be held, but Carlson confirmed the Feb. 6 date.

"I would say that's encouraging," Carlson said of the deadline. "We told the owners we thought we could get the money. There's a hell of a lot of work to be done."

At Monday's session it was announced the present owners of the Pilots, headed by Cleveland businessman William Daley, had lowered their asking price from $10.3 million to $9 million. Daley would retain 25 per cent of the club, lowering the actual cost still further.

But a stumbling block still remains in a $3.5 million bank loan that is recallable if the club is sold. In addition, at least $2 million is needed to operate the club this year.

Carlson remained optimistic about the financing of the sale though, and was even hopeful that the bank loan might be worked out.

Devine Named Coach of Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Missouri's Dan Devine, who led his team to a 9-2 record including an Orange Bowl appearance against Penn State, has been named head coach of the West team in the Coaches All-American football game scheduled in Lubbock June 27.

The announcement was made by Bill Murray, executive director of the American Football Coaches Association.

He came from five strokes off the pace with a stunning seven-under-par 68 on the tough Pebble Beach, Calif., course last week and closed to within one stroke of winner Bert Young.

That gave him a record of two firsts, two seconds and sixth in his last five starts, the best of the tour. Over that period he had a stroke average of 69.45 and won $82,916.

"I'd like to make it $100,000 in six tournaments," he said. He'd have to win to do it. And that would make him the first man to successfully defend a tour title since he won consecutive Western Open championships in 1967-68.

Nicklaus, who has just turned 30 — "I don't like to talk about that too much" — has carved out one of the most outstanding records in the game's history.

He won the national amateur twice before turning pro. Since then he's captured all the world's major titles — two U.S. Open titles, a British Open, three Masters and the PGA.

He was the youngest ever to complete that sweep and last week became only the third man — and the youngest — to go past the $1 million mark in career earnings.

He was the favorite in the field of 144 that began the 72-hole test on the Torrey Pines Golf Club course, with Billy Casper, George Archer, Frank Beard and Dave Hill also threats.

The two smaller cars, entered by the North American Racing Team of Boston, were handicapped in practice by two Connecticut drivers, Sam Posey of Sharon and Tony Adamowicz of Wilton. Both lapped just under the course record, Posey at 121.811 m.p.h. and Adamowicz at 120.952.

Jo Siffert of Switzerland was at the wheel of the fastest Porsche WSK car, an orange and blue, 12-cylinder, 600-horsepower machine entered by J. W. Wyer Engineering of Britain.

Nicklaus Says This May Be His Best Year

By BOB CHERRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, the most renowned figure in pro golf, may be en route to the best year of his remarkable career.

The authority: Jack Nicklaus. But he offered a disclaimer: today before beginning his first round in the $100,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open golf tournament.

"You never know what's going to happen from week to week," Nicklaus said.

"But right now, over the last few months, I've been driving the ball better than I have in the last four years. And that's a big part of the game. I've gotten away from hitting it all over the lot. I finally got something worked out of my swing. I got that out. It's something that can come back, of course, but I can keep it out..." he didn't finish the sentence, but noted:

"I've played pretty well the last few times out. That last round at the Crosby was one of the best I've played in some time."

He came from five strokes off the pace with a stunning seven-under-par 68 on the tough Pebble Beach, Calif., course last week and closed to within one stroke of winner Bert Young.

That gave him a record of two firsts, two seconds and sixth in his last five starts, the best of the tour. Over that period he had a stroke average of 69.45 and won $82,916.

Children Are Arrested for Peddling Dope

By BOB MONROE
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Police arrested three boys they say were peddling heroin on Mermaid Avenue in the Coney Island section of Brooklyn. They say the boys—ages 11, 13 and 15—are not users, just pushing after school for profit.

"I don't know a thing about it," said the proprietor of a pizza parlor on the avenue when asked about the case. "I take care of my own family. That's the best way."

"It happens," shrugs a shoe repairman, sitting on the shoe-shine stand in his shop. "I'm maybe a little surprised at the ages, but otherwise..." said his middle-aged woman customer.

The Mermaid Avenue drug problem has grown "terribly," said Doris Hart, director of an adult education center for the area. "It has become very, very serious in the last few years."

One storefront is occupied by Cidra Club whose president, Henry Rivera, is also chairman of the local Puerto Rican Council. "The drugs are very bad," he said, shaking his head. "I'm afraid to let my kids go outside."

In the back of the club is a weight-lifting set and two doors away is another club with two pool tables and a jukebox blaring Latin tunes as young men chalk their cues. The club offers this instead of the street.

Further up the avenue is another store with a green sign reading "Education Center." Inside is Doris Hart. She is blunt about the problem: "We have everything from elementary school kids glue sniffing on up."

"Nothing is being done about it," she said. "We've had parents who've come in here after they got the runaround trying to get their kids committed."

"We have no future," she said. "They get the first bag free and they're started and they know it's the hospital, jail or the grave or something... You've got no life."

Meanwhile, detectives continue their search for the person who was supplying the three youngsters arrested Tuesday. They said the supplier gave the boys up to 90 envelopes of heroin at a time.

— Hope (Ark.) Star photos member, gave the invocation. A supper was enjoyed by everyone.

After the Jaycee and Jayette Creeds were recited, Mrs. Diana Haynie, local Jayette President, introduced the State Auxiliary officers, the local Jaycee President, and the out of town guests.

Mrs. Mary Jo Taylor, State Jayette President, presented the state Charter to Mrs. Diana Haynie.

The welcome was given by Dick Schrader, Jaycee President.

Mrs. Taylor made a short speech on the organization of the Hope Club.

Mrs. Haynie introduced the local auxiliary officers.

In a beautiful candle light ceremony, Mrs. Pat Milam, District Jayette President, installed the local officers.

The benediction was voiced by Richard Porter, local Jaycee member.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lit Fowler. Mr. Fowler is the District Vice-President of the Jaycees.

Usury Is Hot Issue at Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Constitutional Convention scheduled further consideration today one of its hottest issues, usury, with a segment of the banking industry newly on record in favor of a change.

A letter from 50 banking officers was sent Wednesday to the delegates with the message that banking and insurance companies would withdraw from Arkansas if the usury provision was left as presently written in the proposed constitution.

The letter said that the bankers would provide enough campaign funds to help win ratification of the proposed constitution if the delegates would loosen the usury provision.

The delegates are in their final period of consideration of the new document, which will be submitted to the voters next November.

The language on usury in the proposed constitution is the same as that in the state's current Constitution, adopted in 1874.

The provision sets a limit of 10 per cent on the interest that may be charged on time payments and loans.

The letter from the bankers said the convention would be "dooming Arkansas to be a secondary state if the usury problem is not faced up to in light of current money conditions."

During a summer session, convention delegates approved a proposal giving the legislature authority to increase the rate.

In other action Wednesday, the convention voted to restrict the taxing power approved earlier for municipalities.

The proposal adopted Wednesday prohibits a city from levying a sales, use, income or payroll tax without voter approval.

The convention also altered the provision to read that the legislature, by a three-fifths vote, could prohibit a municipality from levying a tax.

Delegates also approved bringing the 180-odd state boards, agencies and commissions under control of 20 principal departments.

Thinks Science Trouble Is Teachers

CHICAGO (AP) — The trouble with school science courses, a university science teacher says, is science teachers.

"There has been a long term view," Dr. John H. Shonle of the University of Colorado said Wednesday, "that science is something dreadful."

And the reason, he said, is that science teachers concentrate on abstract formulas and theories without showing how science relates to contemporary social problems.

Dr. Shonle, a physicist, expressed his views at a joint meeting of the American Association of Physics Teachers and the American Physical Society.

He was supported by another physicist, Dr. Seville Chapman, chief scientist at the Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory in Buffalo, N.Y., who said:

"Many physics texts and many physics courses, especially introductory courses, do not indicate much relevance."

Shonle said that in an attempt to bring science down to earth he plans to offer at his school next year a course which will explore physics in relation to such things as pollution, weapons and transportation.

Chapman urged that "more physicists make more efforts to show how physics is relevant and not just intellectually stimulating or exciting to physicists."

He said such phrases as "infrared absorption spectra of carbon dioxide" are enough to frighten students off the subject of science even though this concept is of considerable importance to life because it involves pollution of the earth's atmosphere.

Chapman said an increase of carbon dioxide in the earth's atmosphere over the past 70 years has caused a drop in the temperature of the world and might lead to another ice age.

Chapman gave this as an example of how the theories of physics can be made real for students and the public.

Trustees Not Supervised, Court Told

By BILL SIMMONS Associated Press Writer LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Trustys are in unsupervised control of many prison operations more than half the time, a Cummins Prison Farm official told a U.S. District Court hearing here Wednesday.

Billy ay Steed, associate superintendent of Cummins for seven weeks, testified that meat was pilfered from prison supplies and yeast was stolen to make home brew. The thefts, he said, occur in part because there are not enough nonconvict prison employees to supervise the prison operations at all time.

TV NOTEBOOK
By JOAN CROSBY
NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK-(NEA)-Uta Hagen is such a great actress there aren't many roles that can contain her.

Which is why we have seen her on television so seldom and why we can look forward to seeing her on the CBS Playhouse production of Robert Crea's "The Day Before Sunday," to be telecast Feb. 10.

If a mere play can't contain Uta, who can best be described as a great dame, imagine the difficulty containing her in an interview.

Her life as she lives it (and it's real life; nothing phony about this lady) is a superlative Uta Hagen performance whether she is telling how she saved the life of a tiny puppy born to her precious poodle, or whether she is describing a stripper she once saw fall on an over-waxed floor and complete her routine, bumping, grinding and giggling while tears streamed down her face and sobs she couldn't contain erupted in time to the music.

Uta laughs a lot, she listens to others, she observes, she makes sense and she's easy to talk to. It's really only her talent that's awesome.

Yet it has been three years since she has appeared on TV in a drama and that show she thought was so terrible she asked that it please not be mentioned.

The only thing I have ever liked myself in on TV was a Play of the Week production of "A Month in the Country." I did it off-Broadway in 1956, so it was somewhere in 1957, I guess, when I did the TV show. But the script for "The Day Before Sunday" was the best TV script I have ever been offered-not that I have been offered that many.

If you can keep from looking at the East and West hands, we will put you in the South seat with the late Frank Perkins, undoubtedly the greatest of all New England's fine bridge players.

You have a problem at trick one. You can win that first club in dummy and promptly take either a spade or trump finesse. You can win in your hand or you can duck entirely.

Are you ready? You don't duck. That would be downright silly. Frank won in his hand and played ace and jack of trumps. This was the best percentage play and, while the best play doesn't always win, it will this time. Of course, if East wins with the king and leads a spade right back, it will be up to you to take the finesse right then and there.

When Frank played the hand, East ducked the second trump. Now Frank led a club toward dummy and let West hold the trick with the nine. This play gave him an extra chance. If clubs broke 3-3, he would be able to discard one of his losers on dummy's fourth club.

Let's see all the possibilities that Frank's play gave him. He could drop a singleton king of trumps, he could find the king of spades where he wanted it or he could break clubs and make his contract with both major-suit kings wrong for him.

If you rose with the ace of clubs in dummy and tried the trump finesse immediately, you might still make your contract. East or West might lead a spade at some late stage in the play or you might even work out an end play if they didn't discard to best ability, but your line of play was slightly inferior to the one Frank tried.

Cause of Mononucleosis Remains Unidentified

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q-My grandson, 14, has infectious mononucleosis. What causes it? What is the best treatment?
A-Although the cause of this disease has not been positively identified, a herpes-like virus is strongly suspected. There is no specific treatment but drugs of the cortisone group have benefited some victims whose attack was unusually severe. Although the disease usually clears up in seven to 10 days, in some cases the convalescence is slow. Relapses are common.

Q-What are the symptoms of infectious mononucleosis? Could it cause brain damage if the temperature reached 105?
A-Like many other acute infections, this disease is characterized by fever, sore throat and tender enlarged lymph nodes. The diagnosis depends on finding an increased number of white blood cells with a single nucleus and other blood tests. Although inflammation of the brain may occur in very severe cases, complete recovery is the rule.

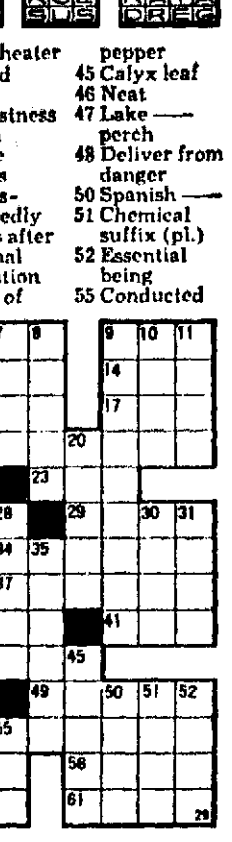

Q-My nephew, 15, got glandular fever with swellings in his neck. Is this disease contagious?
A-The term, glandular fever, has been replaced by infectious mononucleosis. It has been called the kissing disease because it is spread by close contact. It is not very contagious as large-scale epidemics are very rare.

Q-What is Meckerson's syndrome? Is it serious? Can it be cured?
A-I assume you are referring to Meckerson's syndrome which is characterized by chronic swelling of the face and lips, facial paralysis and inflammation of the tongue. It usually has its onset in childhood or the early teens. The cause is not known. It is troublesome but not fatal. No effective treatment is known.

Q-What is Miprem given for? What are its side effects?
A-This is a combination of a mild tranquilizer and a female hormone. It is given chiefly to combat menopausal symptoms. Side effects are rare if the drug is taken in the prescribed dosage, but anyone who is taking it should check with her doctor every three or four months.

Q-What is mepramate?

Unexpected Dividends With Salmon

Spaghetti teamed with canned salmon and grated cheese in a creamy sauce gives unexpected dividends in good eating. No one will dispute the fact that salmon is good just as it comes from the can, and that just plain boiled spaghetti with butter sauce is a wholesome dish, but when you combine these two convenience products, and add the extra ingredient of shredded Swiss or Gruyere cheese and the zip of tangy mustard, you've lifted them out of the ordinary into something quite distinctive. It's a dish that needs no apologies, whether it is served because it's easy to make or just because it tastes so good. Serve it with a crisp salad or carrot strips.

Salmon Gruyere
1 pound can salmon
Salmon liquid plus milk to measure, 2 cups
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pound Swiss or Gruyere cheese, shredded
1 pound thin spaghetti
1 cup fresh bread crumbs, browned in 2 tablespoons melted butter
Drain liquid from can of salmon into measuring cup and add milk to measure 2 cups. In saucepan melt butter, stir in flour, and cook, stirring, until mixture is blended and bubbling. Gradually stir in liquid and cook, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Stir in mustard and salt. Add cheese and stir until cheese is melted. Flake and fold in salmon.
Cook spaghetti according to package directions. Drain and toss with the sauce and browned crumbs. Turn into a greased baking dish and bake in preheated 375°F. oven for 20 minutes. Serves six.

FOOD FOR AMERICANS Iron-Rich Foods Stave Off Anemia

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Nutrition Columnist

Even in this best-fed nation in the world, nutritional anemia threatens many young girls. Statistics show that 25 per cent of all child-bearing women are anemic. It is a hazard, too, to certain young men, particularly to those in the lower-income brackets.

Dr. Grace Goldsmith of Tulane University, head of the Iron Nutritional Committee, met in Washington, D.C., recently with the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Research Council. The council's concern is over the lack of iron-rich foods in the average American diet, particularly among teenagers.

Nutritional anemia is characterized generally by physical lassitude and paleness. Usually caused by a deficiency of iron and other nutrients needed to produce red cells in the blood, it results most often from an iron-poor diet continued over a long time. It can be caused also by extra-heavy demands for iron for growth, pregnancy and an excessive loss of blood, such as menstruation.

The Food and Nutrition Board raised the requirements for iron from 15 milligrams a day to 18 milligrams for teenagers, child-bearing women and adolescent boys (12 to 18).

They and other nutritionists are urging national enrichment of bread as one means of increasing iron intake. The term enrichment means that iron, thiamine, riboflavin and niacin are added to other ingredients. During World War II enrichment was a federal law and prevented anemia among millions. It is no longer a federal law, but many states still require it.

Many medical and food scientists now are trying to get triple enrichment, three times as much iron and the B-vitamins as originally required. By tripling the amount of iron in bread, the public would be guaranteed enough to augment its declining intake. The cost to bakers would be minimal and the taste and color would remain the same, according to experts.

But even a federal law for enrichment of bread and flours does not go far enough. Rice, cornmeal, spaghetti and breakfast cereals also should be triple-enriched.

Because of ignorance, fads, unfamiliarity, prejudice or lack of money, too many teenagers develop eating patterns based mainly on foods devoid of sufficient iron leading ultimately to possible nutritional anemia. For a healthful future something must be done.

Carswell's Foes Seeking a Delay

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Patsy T. Mink, D-Hawaii, said today the Supreme Court nomination of Judge C. Harrold Carswell was "an affront to the women of America."

It was an affront, she said, because he supported a decision dismissing the complaint of a woman denied employment because she had preschool age children.

Mrs. Mink was the first opposition witness called as the Senate Judiciary Committee went into a third day of hearings on the nomination of Carswell, of Tallahassee, Fla., now a judge on the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Mink's testimony concerned the case of Ida Phillips, whose application for a job as an assembly trainee with the Martin Marietta Corp. was refused because she had children of preschool age.

A three-judge panel of the 5th Circuit Court upheld a federal district court decision that Mrs. Phillips had not been refused employment solely because she was a woman but also because she had preschool children. The court ruled this was not a violation of a section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act prohibiting discrimination in employment because of sex.

Judge Carswell was not a member of the panel that heard the case on appeal, but Mrs. Mink protested he joined other members of the court in voting against a request by Chief Judge John Brown for a rehearing of the case.

Mrs. Mink also criticized Carswell for a speech he made in 1948 while a candidate for the Georgia legislature in which he expressed his firm belief in the principles of white supremacy — a statement he testified earlier in the hearings is now abhorrent to him.

While Carswell was a witness, Judge John Brown for a rehearing of the case.

Woman Publishes Open Letter to Man Who Attempted to Rape Her

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — "Two my screams still ring in your ears?" A suburban housewife asks this question in a published open letter to a man she said attempted to attack her in a dark, empty parking lot.

Police Lt. Cecil Terry said the man was being sought but that police lacked a good description of him by either the unnamed woman or a store stock boy who came to her rescue.

The woman, a mother in her 40s, wrote in the letter printed on the front page of the local Mount Clemens Daily:

"To the man who tried to drag me into his car on the night of Jan. 23,

"Rape and murder was written all over your face.

"Yes, I looked myself in my car but you knew I was defenseless. I prayed that my car would warm up in a second so that I could take off right away.

"But it didn't.

"I was terrified.

"I shook all over and you kept hollering for me to get out of the car. There was no one around and I realized I was to be the victim of a sex maniac.

"I thought of all the women who were found murdered and raped and the torment they must have endured and I thought, dear God, and my life now, but at the hands of this maniac.

"I felt my body stiffening as I realized you were going to

Refusal to Override Nixon's Veto Hqsn't Settled the Issue

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House refusal to override President Nixon's veto of the $19.7 billion education money bill has given the administration a surprisingly easy victory, but the issue is far from settled.

Even as a happy President invited the 191 congressmen who voted in support of him to the White House for a thank-you reception Wednesday night, administration and congressional leaders were mapping their next step.

The immediate problem is reaching a compromise between what Democrats want and what the Republican President will accept to pay for the department of labor and health, education and welfare in the current fiscal year, which has only five months to run. A continuing resolution permitting the departments' programs to continue at their 1969 funding levels expires Saturday.

Differences between the President and Democratic congressional leaders on a key issue of impact aid to federally-affected schools may deepen even more Friday when Nixon presents his new budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. He is expected to repeat his proposals for drastic cutbacks in funds for the 20-year-old program to help schools in federally-impacted areas.

But the real test of the presidential veto—and the decision of 156 of the 188 House Republicans to uphold it—may not come until the fall elections.

"The President was quarter-backing it very closely," said one White House official who called the 226-191 House vote a personal triumph for Nixon.

Republican House leaders agreed and said Nixon's action vetoing the bill on television played a large part in building his support.

"There was a tremendous response from the people back in the districts," said House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford.

The vote in favor of overriding the veto was 56 short of the two-thirds majority required. The most optimistic Republican estimates had been 165 votes would be cast in support of the President's position, but they got 191.

Although 86 Republicans voted for the extra funds when the House passed the bill last month despite the threat of a veto, only 27 stayed with it Wednesday and

Ford Plans to Lay Off Some 25,700 Workers

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. says it will close down nine production plants and lay off 25,700 employees during parts of February because of lagging sales and declining profits.

The shutdowns will last from one day to three weeks, a Ford spokesman said Wednesday. He indicated similar production halts might continue into March, saying:

"This only means we have the schedule for a month ahead. And that's all it means."

The halts are in line with belt-tightening by Ford and the other two leading automakers, General Motors and Chrysler.

GM officials announced Tuesday cutbacks at 21 plants affecting 126,500 employees from two to seven days in February and Chrysler announced it is idling 2,200 workers until further notice.

Couch Wins Control of Union Bank

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Donald P. Couch, 29, deposed last Oct. 31 as president of Union National Bank of Little Rock, was swept back into office Wednesday through firm control of the bank's annual stockholders meeting.

A major of the voting shares was held by his management faction or pledged to it by proxy on enough points to give him majorities on the key questions at the meeting.

Six of Couch's recommendations for the board of directors were elected. Only five of those recommended by Jerome H. Bowen were elected.

The board majority promptly chose Couch as bank president, as he said it would occur when he announced a week earlier that he had obtained proxy pledges of more than 100,000 share votes.

The result ended the 89-day presidency of Bowen, who became president when the bank's board ousted Couch and Harlan P. Lane, who had been board chairman and the bank's chief executive officer.

Laird Fears All Volunteer Army Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today that to attain an all-volunteer force, the United States would have to cut its armed strength down close to two million men and spend heavily on a strengthened National Guard and Reserve.

This would represent a slash of nearly 1.3 million from the present level of U.S. forces.

"I personally believe that you have to get down to a level, before you can get down to an all-volunteer service, near the two million mark," Laird told a youth group of the Pentagon.

The lowest figure he previously has indicated as the target for an all-volunteer, draftless force, was 2.6 million men, about 100,000 fewer than U.S. armed strength when this country became involved on a major scale in the Vietnam war.

Laird said a two-million-man force could not meet U.S. obligations unless, at the same time, measures were taken to build up the National Guard and Reserve to back up the smaller regular military establishment.

He spoke of a "tremendous expense" as being needed to maintain an adequate reserve.

"I'm not sure we have... support presently for that kind of funding in the Congress," Laird said.

A presidential commission headed by former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates is winding up a year-long manpower study. It is expected to report to President Nixon within a few weeks on its proposals for moving to an all-volunteer force and away from the draft.

2nd Major Antidrug Bill Passed in Week, Control Narcotics

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved its second major antidrug bill in a week, a narcotics control measure strengthening weapons of U. S. agents while softening penalties for drug experimenters and possession of marijuana.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield told the Senate after the 82-0 vote Wednesday that it now has passed 14 of the 20 anti-crime measures asked by President Nixon. Last Friday the Senate sent the House an omnibus organized crime control measure.

Senators battled four days over amendments to the drug control legislation before pushing it along to the House. Bill drafters fought off efforts to wipe out the most controversial part of the bill, which gives authority for courts to issue no-knock search warrants to federal narcotics agents in certain circumstances.

Just before passing the bill, the Senate also rejected an attempt to trim the maximum penalties for possession of marijuana even further than the original measure proposed.

Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, submitted the amendment, which would have made the maximum penalty six months in jail for simple possession of marijuana, instead of one year as provided in the bill. This was rejected 58 to 24.

Present law makes possession of marijuana a felony and provides a 2-to-10 year sentence for first offense, but allows for suspension or probation.

Hughes argued so little is known about marijuana that even the reduced penalties in the original bill are not justified, but Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, floor manager of the measure, didn't agree.

Dodd pounded his desk with what he said was a marijuana brick worth $3,000 as he contended the law should make it clear smoking the drug "is not a schoolboy prank."

Authors of the 100-page, administration-backed bill said they had two goals: To provide new penalties and tools for a crackdown on professional criminals trafficking in drugs and to substitute the opportunity of rehabilitation for jail for youths experimenting with drugs.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to possess marijuana for a person's own use. A first offender could have the violation erased from his record if he lived up to conditions a court might impose.

A conviction for a second offense would carry a penalty of up to double that imposed on first offenders.

The bill sets up a commission to study the effects of marijuana and provides for creation of a listing of narcotics, drugs and substances that would be regulated in the United States and could not be imported.

Enemy MIGs Shoot Down U.S. Plane

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Air Force fighter bombers attacked an enemy MiG aircraft Wednesday in North Vietnam after an unarmed reconnaissance plane was shot down by surface-to-air missiles, the Pentagon announced today.

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Antiaircraft guns shot down an American F105 fighter-bomber along the border between North Vietnam and Laos Wednesday and two hours later North Vietnamese MIG jets shot down a big rescue helicopter searching for the F105 crew, official sources said today.

All eight Americans aboard the two aircraft were reported missing.

It was the first report of MIGs attacking American aircraft since President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered the bombing of North Vietnam halted 15 months ago.

The sources said they believed this was the first helicopter shot down by North Vietnamese MIGs.

There were two men flying the F105 and six in the crew of the HH53 rescue helicopter.

The sources said SAMs—surface-to-air missiles—also were fired at the flight of F105s, but these apparently missed.

A spokesman for the U.S. Command said he had nothing to report on the downed aircraft "at this time."

The sources held out little hope for the crewmen of the HH53 helicopter, since it was hit by an air-to-air missile fired from the MIG.

North Vietnam claimed its forces shot down three U.S. planes Wednesday and damaged many others during American air raids on the North Vietnamese provinces of Quang Binh and Ha Tinh, which border Laos along the Mu Gia Pass, the main entrance into Laos for North Vietnamese supply traffic.

The sources said it was not yet clear whether both of the American aircraft went down in Laos or North Vietnam, or whether one was shot down in Laos and the other in North Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Following a surprisingly easy administration victory on the veto of the $19.7 billion health-education appropriations bill, leaders on both sides are considering their next move. Possibilities run from repealing the bill with the addition of a provision allowing Nixon not to spend all the funds to revising the measure completely. The House sustained the veto with 56 votes to spare.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge G. Harrold Carswell has completed testimony before the Senate committee conducting hearings on his nomination to the current Supreme Court vacancy, with all signs indicating he will be easily confirmed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles DiBona, president of the Center for Naval Analysis in Virginia, Rhodes scholar and former Pentagon systems analyst, has been offered the job of Selective Service director but has not yet accepted the post.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved its second major antidrug bill this week, sending to the House a narcotics control measure that strengthens weapons for U.S. agents and softening penalties for experimenting marijuana users.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Cancer Institute says a little-known experimental drug called BCNU is proving a promising anticancer weapon, showing progress against lung and gastrointestinal tract cancers as well as maladies such as Hodgkins disease.

NEW YORK (AP) — Tentative agreement on basic issues has been reached in the 95-day-old strike against General Electric. The two sides resumed joint negotiating sessions Wednesday night after weeks of talks through a federal mediator.

Prosecutor Jack Graves said Dr. Byron Grimmer, about 40, and his office nurse, Mrs. Patricia Ann Kimball, 34, both of Waldo, had been charged with violating state drug laws.

Grimmer was freed after posting $5,000 bond. Mrs. Kimball, mother of three, was released after $2,500 bond was posted for her.

Sgt. H. H. "Duke" Atkinson of the State Police Criminal Investigation Division called it the largest drug confiscation in the state's history.

The drug purchases were made by agents Tuesday and Circuit Court Judge Henry Grumpler of Magnolia issued a search warrant late in the day. Graves said agents had made four purchases at the clinic since last August as part of an investigation.

Two half-ton trucks were used to haul the amphetamines and barbiturates to Little Rock for inventory at State Police headquarters, Graves said.

The clinic is located on Arkansas 19 at Waldo. Grimmer's house is behind the office, Graves said.

The prosecutor said that Grimmer, a widower, had been practicing at Waldo for several years and that Mrs. Kimball had been a nurse at the clinic since September 1967.
